Make It Yourself.

There is so much Rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice will be highly appreciated by those who suffer:

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and torturous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after a while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

Ballentine, Miss.

Miss Anna Parrent, of Frankfort, Ky., is visiting her uncle, R. A. Hancock, of this place, and has made quite an impression on some of the Mississippi boys and none so much as Oscar St. John, as he was overheard to remark to his chum, W. H. Knight, the other night, "I have always heard that Kentucky was noted for pretty women and I am now made to believe it."

James Sargent and wife attended church at McKeever Sunday.

Mrs. H. L. White, of Sardis, Miss., is visiting Mrs. M. E. Jones, of Woods Hotel, while her husband selects him a location somewhere in Oklahoma where he will move shortly and practice his profession as a physician.

Mrs. J. C. Wilson, who has been sick for some time, is improving. Born, to the wife of Charley Craddock, Thursday night, a 10-pound boy.

R. A. Hancock and wife were summoned to attend the burial of their aunt, Miss Annie Powers, of Frankfort, Ky., the 8th. She was 90 years old. PHOEB.

When children are told what a smart man their father is, they look at their mother, as if asking her if they are to believe it.

Baby Has 60 Grandparents.

What is believed to be the only instance of a family of six generations, all living, is reported from Wyalusing, Grant county, Wis., where the head of the families reside, but with progeny scattered all over Iowa and Illinois.

The woman who stands at the head of these generations and has established this unparalleled record is Lydia Thomas Ault Shrike, who has attained the age of 95 years, yet is remarkably well preserved, and fondles the child of her sixth generation as if it were her own.

One other remarkable thing is that every one of the six generations is a female.

For many years most of the members resided within the township of Wyalusing, and have lived, many of them, within 10 miles of each other since their birth. The more indirect descendants are scattered all over the Northwest. In the Shrike family all the girls married early in life, as the record will show, and all gave birth to children, and this fact has narrowed the time limit down to 95 years for six generations.

"Grandma" Shrike now numbers 167 direct descendants, and the world is challenged to produce its equal.

Baby Gully, recently born, is the youngest member of the family. The youngster is blessed with more grandparents than any living child. This is a condensed record of these six generations:

First Generation—Mrs. Lydia Thomas Ault Shrike, born in Connellsville, Penn., in 1814. Married at 18 to William Ault. To this union were born five children. Ault died in 1838, and two years later Mrs. Ault was married to Jacob Shrike, and to this union were born five children. "Grandma" Shrike sent five sons to the Civil War, and her last husband was a veteran of the War of 1812.

Second Generation—Margaret Ault-Elder, born in 1835, married at 15, and is the mother of 10 children, seven of whom are living.

Third Generation—Rachel Elder Goff, born in 1851, married at 17. She is the mother of 12 children, seven of whom are living.

Fourth Generation—Malissa Goff-Spaulding, born in 1873, married at 15, mother of three children, all living.

Fifth Generation—Cora Spaulding Gully, born in 1891, married at 15, mother of one child.

Sixth Generation—Agnes Elder Goff Spaulding Gully, born August 5, 1908.—Chicago Journal.

$100 REWARD! $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Bourbon Red Turkeys

I see in Farmstead a request for information concerning bourbon red turkeys, and I enclose an article describing them. I wrote it a year ago.

I am rather an enthusiast on turkeys, and bourbon red turkeys in particular, as they are so easy to raise. I used to breed the old-fashion bronze turkey, which, if one succeeds in raising and keeping from running wild in the woods before fall, is a slightly larger turkey than is the bourbon red, but I had to look so far ahead for the nest to find the eggs, and little turkeys were so hard to raise, that it was a discouraging task.

Finally, just as I had made up my mind to quit raising turkeys, a friend told me about bourbon reds and their various good qualities, and I decided to try them. I have never regretted it. I find bourbon red turkeys are easy to raise, easy to keep and hard to equal. They are as domesticated as the ordinary barnyard fowl, and lay their eggs at home in the same nests as the chickens. Instead of two clutches of eggs in a season, they lay three, and the last clutch is as fertile as the first, and barring accidents, every egg will hatch a vigorous little Turk, which will not wilt and droop and sleep and die, but grow and feather up and fatten on a diet of whole wheat bread and small grain till it is six weeks old, after which time they are self-sustaining foragers and make their own living.

And they are almost as ornamental as peacocks. Gorgeous, glittering, golden-brown birds, with white in wing, and tail and buff undercolor, they are fit subjects for the pencil of an artist. Compact, full breasted, blocky and heavyset, they are equally interesting from the standpoint of the connoisseur and gourmet.

But the main thing I like about bourbon reds is that I do not have to put in any time hunting turkey nests or driving the little turkeys home to roost. Then turkey raising is very profitable. I figure that my bourbon red turkeys cost less per pound when ready for market than hog meat, and sell for double the price at half the labor. And the demand is always good. I consider bourbon red turkeys the most profitable turkeys ever raised, as while they do not grow quite so large as the mammoth bronze, which I discarded, I always have about three times as many to sell in the fall, as I have almost no losses.—B., Horse Cave, Ky.

In Five Minutes.

Take your sour stomach—or maybe you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangles and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is a lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapiesin.

Looking For Madstone.

E. O. Tutt, of this county, was in Lexington last Wednesday looking for a madstone which he wished to apply to a dog bite, was assured by Dr. Ernest Bradley, the city bacteriologist, that there was no danger. He was bit some time ago, while fooling with a dog in his yard and as his friends had great confidence in a madstone, which is owned by Mrs. M. Burgin, of Woodland avenue, he went right on to Lexington. He was unable to find the madstone and was told to go to Dr. Barkley, who told him the wound was not dangerous.

Don't get a Divorce.

A western judge granted a divorce on account of ill-temper and bad breath. Dr. King's New Life Pills would have prevented it. They cure Constipation, causing bad breath and Liver Trouble—the ill-temper, dispel colds, banish headache, conquer chills. 25c at all dealers.

Many of you who are subscribers of THE HERALD also take a paper at other points, a daily for instance, and you know that you have to pay for it in advance. The people to whom you pay this advance money are absolutely strangers. I have been here nearly a quarter of a century and I ask you in all confidence why should you refuse to pay me in advance? The Postmaster General insists that I have pay in advance and if I take a subscriber who is not paid I forfeit right to the pound rate. Now, think it over and see if you can't treat home folks as good as "foreigners."

There is a move on foot to establish a telephone line between Hazel Green and Helechawa. Every enterprising citizen should be interested and take stock. We are not prepared to say what the stock will be, but we do know that it will be in shape that any of us laboring men can take a share. The idea mainly is to have a line of communication between this town and Helechawa. Think of it, citizens. There is not a place on God's globe where a line is more needed. Be up with the times and keep posted. Maybe you will want a doctor quick, and if you have a telephone you can get him.

There is a movement on foot to start a tiling plant at this place, and there never was need for anything more. Jack Rittenhouse and John Fetterly are the prime movers and if they can start with proper encouragement we will soon have a plant in our midst. There are thousands of acres of land along the creek and river bottoms that can be made to double their product. And, aside from this, the health of the people would be much better.

The Republican district committeemen met at Jackson on the 15th inst., and decided to hold a primary to nominate candidates for circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney. Subsequently, Sam Hurst, of Beattyville, who had announced for attorney, withdrew and it is probable no primary will be held.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.
Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both free of charge, by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

Stray Shot From Mexico.

We have now been on the old Cortez road from Mexico City to Vera Cruz. The distance is over 200 miles by rail, and the old road was paved with stone two centuries ago and is in fair condition. On our trip to Vera Cruz we descended the mountains, 9,000 feet high, to the sea level in four hours. All day long the train ran at the foot of several mountains on which the snow never melts, although we are in the torrid zone. It is a wonderful trip down these mountains. The train skirts along canyons from a few hundred to 2,000 feet deep, and one can see the Gulf of Mexico, 80 miles airline, which looks a great mirror. At each station the natives bring loads of fruits of almost every variety to sell. I bought a three-gallon basket of fine oranges, basket and all, for 50¢ Mexican or 25¢ our money. Mexico is now on gold basis and our money is exchanged for Mexican silver at two to one. Vera Cruz is a fine town. Has 20 miles of asphalt streets and many lovely parks, as all tropical cities have. The manufacture of panama hats and cigars is the principal occupation of the people. We now ascend the mountains by another road and enter the country of coffee and bananas. At Puebla we rested two days and enjoyed the city. Puebla is a city of churches and the cathedral is said to be the finest church in North America. During the 375 years of its existence it has constantly been improved and more than $7,000,000 has been expended on the edifice. The numerous altars and shrines are of carved onyx trimmed in silver and gold. There are great railings, ten to twenty feet high, covered with gold leaf, and four large sunbursts, 15 feet in diameter, of pure gold. The ceilings are over 100 feet high and the tapestries on the walls are nearly a thousand years old. The church has refused a million and half dollars for them alone. Words can not describe, you must come and see. Near this city is a pyramid 200 feet high and covering 44 acres, on the summit of which is a church led to by 500 stone steps up which thousands of people go on their hands and knees once each year. The church is only 200 years old, but the pyramid was there when the Aztecs took this country about the eleventh century. Ancient ruins are found all over Mexico and scientists claim many of them are thousands of years old. No one knows who built them, but it is believed they were placed there by a race of people closely akin to the people who erected the Egyptian pyramids and other ancient structures. No doubt they were erected for religious purposes. The Catholic church holds full sway in our sister republic and has since the Spanish conquest. The common people, mostly Indians, are very superstitious and the country is priest ridden and poor.

KENTUCKY KARNELS

Carefully Colliated and Concisely Chronicled.

A 28-acre tract of land in Bourbon county was leased at $31 an acre for cultivation of tobacco.

A fourteen foot rise in the Kentucky river last Friday set the logs to running and timber men are much elated.

Over two hundred weddings were solemnized in Kentucky on Christmas day. This surpasses any previous record.

The citizens of Sharpsburg have organized a law and order league for the purpose of putting down "bootlegging" and gambling.

Cyrus Dawson's arm was broken as a result of an explosion at Hopkinsville. Dawson touched a lighted match to a hole in an empty whisky barrel.

Deputy Sheriff Hammon attempted to serve a summons on R. L. Connor, a farmer near Albany. Both commenced shooting at once and both will die.

A new bank with a capitalization of $20,000 was organized last week by citizens of Little Rock, in Bourbon county. This makes eleven banks now in that county.

"Bad Jeff Evans," who for three years has eluded the officers, was placed in jail at Inez, in Martin county, last week. He is wanted for stabbing Rush Muncy in 1902.

Winchester is to have a new weekly paper called the A. S. of E. Tobacco News. As its name indicates it will be devoted to the furtherance of the tobacco interests.

John Watkins, a log boom tender on the Kentucky river near Jackson, was drowned while at work assisting to catch logs in the recent tide. He leaves a wife and three children.

A fight, which is said to have started at a country dance near Williamstown, resulted in the death of one woman, who was instantly killed, and probable fatal wounding of two men.

The jury in the case of T. S. Anderson, the Owensboro banker charged with false swearing, returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his sentence at three years in the penitentiary.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Garner, of Hardin county, are the proud parents of triplets recently born. About fifteen months ago Mrs. Garner gave birth to twins who are now healthy, thrifty children.

In the local option contest at George town, a decision was handed down by the contest board in favor of the "drys" by a majority of two. It is stated, however, that the liquor people will carry the case to the Appellate court.

One of the longest fox chases on record came off in Adair county last week when 30 hounds ran a fox from dark until dawn next morning, covering over 60 miles in the course. Not one of the dogs gave up the chase.

Archie Van Tine, a 17-year-old Maysville boy, was run over and killed by a C. & O. freight train. He attempted to jump on the train, but missed his hold and fell under the wheels. His dismembered body was scattered along the road for half a mile.

A special venire of 100 jurymen from Clark county was ordered by the Fayette Circuit court to try the case against W. H. Campbell, of Lexington, who is charged with the killing of Policeman Michael Murphy in an election fight in November, 1907.

Fire, supposed to be of incendiary origin, would have wiped out the entire town of Owingsville, early one morning last week, had it not been for the heroic and strenuous work of the fire brigade. As it was, a large part of the business center was destroyed.

Bill Britton, whose case for being implicated in the Cockrill murder at Jackson several years ago was recently dismissed in the Fayette Circuit court, was last week arrested in Morehead and taken to Virginia, where he is wanted for a murder committed there before he came to Kentucky.

While Wade Hurd was being tried in Richmond last week for forgery, Isom Cox, a young man, entered the court room and declared himself the guilty party. He said he wrote the check, got the money, went to Cincinnati, attended a Salvation Army meeting, became consciousness-stricken, and returned to save an innocent man from disgrace.

At Paintsville, Jailer Geo. W. Spears was shot in the hip by Merida Brown, a prisoner. The jailer and his wife entered the cell corridor with supper for the prisoners, when Brown assaulted his keeper and got his pistol. Mrs. Spears assisted her husband, whereupon Brown fired and escaped into the street. He was chased by citizens and captured.

John Robinson, who, by his own confession, is the principal in twenty-five or thirty burglaries in Newport, Covington, Bellevue and Dayton, was arraigned in the Police court in Newport recently. When informed that he could have the services of a lawyer, he replied, "I don't want a lawyer. I plead guilty to every charge against me." His case was continued.

Let Others Do Likewise.

Rothwell, Ky., Jan. 12, 1908.
Spencer Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.
Dear Friend: I have your communication of the 1st inst., requesting that I send you $2 for the man that runs THE HERALD. Now this is a better way than marking up the paper with a blue pencil, because it comes under cover so that the whole world does not know a fellow is a hind with his "information." The "feller" that prints these blue slips don't care how hard he does your patrons, but everyone who knows Spencer knows that he would not give his account to a "eternity," even if he had to shed tears sufficient to blot out forever the amount and he further knows that he would not blot out his name from the role of subscribers who has lived as long as THE HERALD has. I am a firm believer that he who takes THE HERALD and reads it and keeps the editor fairly paid and obey the Bible will never come to the bad. Now I notice an extra inducement for behind subscribers who will show their appreciation of a good thing by paying up that you actually give free for 25¢ a pair of silver steel 8-inch self sharpening shears. Now who would not come to the relief of such an editor? I will start the ball rolling by enclosing my $2.25. If 500,000 subscribers to THE HERALD would do this it would enable the editor and his better ½ to winter in Florida instead of having to undergo the cold that comes to the natives of the Lillies of the Valleys of Hazel Green, Ky.
Spencer, give Mrs. Cooper my kindest regards, and not forget that I am your friend.
Yours truly,
W. R. TABOR.

Had Two of Them.

Mr. Editor: I notice in Daysboro Doings, HERALD, Jan. 7, that J. H. Caskey is blowing himself proud because he had a fine gander for New Year's dinner. Maybe he thinks he's the only one. What? Well, I want to say that right here in this little town of New York I saw down to a home dinner with the family of a post and, by heck, we had two ganders, fine and fat for our New Year's dinner. Say, Daysboro hasn't got a gander monopoly, and don't you forget it. Besides we had mince and apple pie that the poet's wife made with her own hand, and they were as good as any that Bro. Caskey ever stuck a tooth into, sure. Say, New York ain't so worse, if it ain't in Kentucky. That's what! So here's a Happy New Year to everybody.
Yours,
Jan. 13. W. J. LAMPTON.

"Jemima, or the Witch of Bender," is the title of a comedy that will be produced at Pearce Hall, Saturday, Jan. 30, at 6:30 p. m.

THINKING OF MOVING WEST?

It not, then make up your mind and write me for descriptive list of farms in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. All fine, level, productive land that will grow anything under the sun, at prices ranging from $15 to $40 an acre and come where life is made tolerable by easy, profitable farming. Why sweat and fret life away in the vain effort to eke out a mere miserable sustenance from the rock-ribbed, root-laced hillsides as your father and father's father did, when there is so much good land to be had yet awhile for a mere song? Get out of the rat-brook away from the time-worn habit that keeps your nose to the grindstone. All it takes is resolution and a little nerve. Write me, and let me help you to a better condition.

When the Hair Falls

Stop it! And why not? Falling hair is a disease, a regular disease; and Ayer's Hair Vigor, as made from our new improved formula, quickly and completely destroys that disease. The hair stops falling out, grows more rapidly, and all dandruff disappears.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Ayer's
Formula with each bottle show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

The little book in each package gives the formula of our new Hair Vigor, tells why each ingredient is used, and explains many other interesting things. After reading you will know why this new hair preparation does its work so well.

Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE HERALD.

Doc Kash and Ellis Johnson went to Campton yesterday.

Dr. A. C. Nickell and 'Squire Bob Brooks went to Campton Tuesday.

A Miss Roland, of Owsley county, visiting her cousin, Mrs. Roberts, of this place.

Uncle Jordan Willis, who was reported to be dangerously ill last week, is able to be out.

Harlan Trimble, of Lacy creek, was recently the recipient of a very handsome meerschaum pipe, a gift from Andy James, of Montgomery county.

John Brewer sold a boundary of timber to the Richmond Cooperage Co., for $1,200. D. B. Rose has the contract to cut it ready for hauling, and Brewer is to log it in.

Kash, Johnson & Kash, as will be seen by bills printed at this office, are selling a lot of clothing, shoes, dry goods, etc., at sacrifice prices. Now is the time to get bargains.

The Cecil Bros., that is the younger firm consisting of Henry and Forest, have just opened a first class feed and livery stable which they announce in a lot of cards, issued from this office.

Charley Claypool, of Morgan county, was here Monday to bring his boy to school. The young man had been in the academy, but had some affliction which called him home, and his father escorted him back.

Strayed—From Campton, Monday, 18th inst., a brown horse, 15 hands, white hair and short tail. A liberal reward will be paid for his return or information that will get him.

Boone Childers, Lee City, Ky.

Dr. Andy Nickell and Dr. J. H. Stamper, the former an allopath physician and the latter a doctor of dental surgery, will go to Louisville in a few days and buckle down to get a diploma. The former, however, has the sheepskin, but is trying for a post graduate course.

We are in receipt of a card from Witmer, Texas, announcing the birth of a girl to the wife of Dr. Jeptha Fallen, Miss Josephine La Verne. Mrs. Fallen's maiden name was Swango, Miss Ava, and the baby's first name is in honor of her grandma, Mrs. Josephine Swango.

The Bible says: "Man is made of dust." Dust settles. You are a subscriber. But are you a man? From the number of statements we have lately sent out and the few returns we have received we incline to the opinion that some of our subscribers are not made of dust. Maybe they are "mud."

Hon. W. O. Mize returned the latter part of the week from Louisville, where he went with his son, Carl. The latter is located in the Anti Tuberculosis Sanitarium, which is about seven miles from Louisville. Carl has a host of friends here and he will be glad to hear from his intimates any time.

ACADEMY NOTES.

Mrs. Long is visiting her mother in Ohio.

The new students are Hattie Day, Arthur Graham, Arthur Kash and Richard Hurst.

The number of matriculates is now 279. Some have not gotten their numbers yet.

Following students went home over Sunday: Green Lacy, Curtis Testerman, Dennis Nickell, Glenn Haney, Luther Claypool and Albert Hylton.

Miss Martin is progressing nicely with her primary folks. The little ones hated to give up Mrs. Long, but now they seem delighted with their present teacher.

The rain and snow of last week gave us quite a lot of water in the pond for running the dynamo. While it is raining we are deprived of the sunlight of day, but have the electric lights at night. This is a division of light.

Bro. Derthick gave a complimentary talk in the chapel last Friday, by saying that the general department of the school is better than he ever saw before. We hope that we shall continue to hold the championship the remainder of the year.

Bro. Derthick preached Sunday morning and night. There was one young man that gave his heart to God at the morning service, seven at the evening service. At the baptismal service, which took place Monday, two more young men made the noble confession and were baptized at the time. It certainly was a joyful time. We were all glad to know that the young men and women are giving their lives to the Master and consecrating their services to Him.

Roll of Honor.

The following have responded to our appeal and have paid up their arrearages and renewed, and some are new subscribers:

H. Clay Lacy, Pine Ridge.

Struck by Lightning.

Mrs. Nancy Cleary, of Brewer, N. C., suffered as if struck by lightning. She says: "I was almost paralyzed from my waist down, and my back hurt me constantly, from female troubles. I had headache, seemed always tired, and felt as if I was dying. I took Wine of Cardui, which cured me, and now I feel like a new person." Cardui relieves periodical pain, and makes sick women well. $1.00 at drug stores.

A Prompt Response.

Silvercreek, Ky., Jan. 12
Dear Uncle Spence: Your appeal forwarded me has just been received, and I hand you check for one year's subscription to THE HERALD. The whyness of my prompt response is not that I intend annoyance but to save you from "both time and tears." Hoping you are all well and happy, and with best regards to you and your better seven-eighths, I am faithfully yours, JAKE T. PATRICK.

Mrs. Roe Day and her daughter, Miss Daisy, left Monday for Mt. Sterling, where they will meet J. T. Day, husband and father respectively, and with him visit many relatives in and about that city. Possibly Mr. Day will return home with them and assume charge of his business, which has been in other hands for several years. The many friends of Mr. Day, who dealt with him for years, will rejoice if he again comes into his own.

LANDSAW LACONICS.

Miss Sarah Combs visited home folks Saturday and Sunday.

H. L. Whisman went to Campton last Saturday on business.

Miss Helen Combs, of Seminary fork, is visiting her uncle, N. L. Combs.

Sylvania Hilton, whose illness was mentioned last week, is improving.

John Taulbee last Friday sold a cow to Nelse Cheney, of Grassy, for $27.50.

Clarence Madden went to Winchester last week and will probably locate there.

Wm. Shackelford, of Frozen, took dinner with E. T. Kash, Monday, en route to Campton court.

Arthur Lykins, an attorney from Campton, was here last week taking depositions in a divorce suit.

Robert Rose sold to Stephen Rose, of Lacy creek, four yearling steers for $70 cash and two heifer calves.

The supervisors raised the assessed value of some lands in this section, which caused quite a disturbance.

Rollin Combs seems to be very despondent since the weather has got so bad that he can't haul ties to Helechawa.

John Brewer, Bruce McGuire and James Testerman, who are attending H. G. A., came over to see home folks Saturday, returning Monday.

N. L. and Rollin Combs, H. L. Whisman, J. M. Tester, Joe, Curt and Mort Halsey and Francis Madden, all of this place, went to Campton today, the first day of Circuit court.

Among the boys from Gillmore and Lacy creek passing through here Monday for Campton, we noticed Logan and Cesar Lindon, John D., Stephen and Rauey Rose, and Irving Carson.

Ed McNabb bought a farm on Buck creek from Clay Boling, and moved Monday.

Mrs. R. A. Childers and son, Wick, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed McNabb.

J. J. Catron, Will Hollon, J. B. McNabb, Clay Boling and W. A. Oldfield went to Campton Monday.

Jan. 18. GLENDORA.

EZEL EVOLUTIONS.

After reading the following items your readers will think socials are the order of day at this place:

Quite a number attended the social at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Waldeck, Wednesday night, given in honor of their son, Harde, who has been in Illinois for the past year and returned last week.

Saturday night a social was given at the home of James Denig; Monday night at the home of Mrs. Ollie Sample; Tuesday night at Joe Cecil's, all given in honor of John Bell, of Lexington.

Friday night a birthday reception was given Miss Lena Childers at her home.

Billie Wells, of Wellington, was in this section Thursday.

Mrs. Lizzie Stamper, of Grassy, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Havens.

Mrs. John Smith Nickell has been on the sick list for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Bessie Rose made a business trip to your town one day last week.

Jeff Rose, of Lacy creek, was a guest of Joe Cecil from Sunday until Tuesday.

Miss Audra Kash will leave Monday for H. G. A., where she will matriculate.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cecil, of near Hazel Green, were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Floyd Rose, Sunday.

Mrs. Bessie Rose and Miss Emma Sample are making preparations to enter school at H. G. A. in a few days.

A protracted meeting begins at Flatgap school house Thursday night, lasting over Sunday and perhaps longer.

Mrs. James Bell, son and daughter, of Lexington, have been visiting relatives and friends in this section for the past week.

A Pathetic Case.

Representative John W. Langley, of Kentucky, is endeavoring to deliver the dying message of a Union soldier to his mother, who is supposed to live in Harlan county, Kentucky. In 1861 a private soldier who was unable to keep up with his regiment on a forced march to Menifee county, dropped out of the ranks and stopped at the house of a farmer named McCormick, who lived near Frenchburg. While there he was taken sick and died. His last words to McCormick were: "Tell mother up in Harlan county that her son died here."

He was so feeble that the farmer was unable to understand where his mother lived.

McCormick buried the soldier on a mound near his home and carved on a rude stone "James Comstock, Union Soldier."

At the request of neighbors Representative Langley made an application to the Government for a headstone to mark the soldier's grave. In investigating his record Langley found that he had enlisted from Harlan county, and has written several letters to prominent people of the county with a view to finding the soldier's mother, if she is alive, and delivering to her the son's deathbed message.

School Examinations.

State Supt. John G. Crabbe has sent out a list of the school examinations for the present year and has announced that no special examinations will be authorized. The teachers examinations will be held at the usual time during the months of May, June, July and August. For diplomas for students of county school, January 20th—30th, and May 14th—15th. Examinations for teachers' State certificates will be held in June and August. For State diplomas June 30th and August 25th. For qualifications of County Superintendent, July 30th—31st and August 27th.

To the surprise of everybody in this section the Holly Wilson gas well, known as No. 2, and considered the next strongest well in the Hazel Green gas field, went out two weeks ago tomorrow and Mr. Wilson is now burning coal. This, it will be remembered, is the well drilled in by the Hazel Green Gas Co., of which Mr. Wilson was a director, but he subsequently sold or leased it to a syndicate at West Liberty and the Hazel Green company sued for its possession, claiming their contract was good. It was carried up to the Court of Appeals, which decided for Mr. Wilson, and now it is questioned as to what he may realize.

Two young men were dismissed or expelled from Hazel Green Academy Tuesday for smoking cigarettes, subsequently they promised to do so no more and were reinstated. In this connection, if any young cigarette smoker will come to the editor of this paper he will see cause never to smoke the vile thing again.

Some say I am too high, Prove the truth, give me a try.

Come in and see me and I will surprise you. Have me fix your teeth and if you are not satisfied I lose. Ain't that fair?

AMERICA'S GREATEST WEEKLY.

THE TOLEDO BLADE,
TOLEDO, OHIO.

The Best Known Newspaper in the United States.

CIRCULATION - 200,000.

Popular in Every State.

In many respects the TOLEDO BLADE is the most remarkable weekly newspaper published in the United States. It is the only newspaper especially edited for national circulation. It has had the largest circulation for more years than any newspaper printed in America. Furthermore, it is the cheapest newspaper in the world, as will be explained to any person who will write us for terms. The News of the World so arranged that busy people can more easily comprehend, than by reading cumbersome columns of dailies. All topics made plain in each issue by special editorial matter written from inception down to date. The only paper published especially for people who do not read daily newspapers, and yet thirst for plain facts. That this kind of a newspaper is popular, is proven by the fact that the Weekly Blade now has over 200,000 yearly subscribers, and is circulated in all parts of the United States. In addition to the news, the Blade publishes short and serial stories, and many departments of matter suited to every member of the family. Only one dollar a year. Write for free specimen copy. HOW I WON MY TITLE BY BUFFALO BILL FROM TRUE TALES OF THE PLAINS

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY WILLIAM F. CODY

ONE of my favorite buffalo hunting horses was a small brown or large Indian pony which I got from a Cheyenne. As this horse came from Utah, I named him Brigham, after the prophet. During the construction of the Kansas Pacific railroad, now the Union Pacific, in 1867 the construction of the end of the track got into the great buffalo country, and at that time the Indians—the Sioux, Cheyennes, Comanches and Arapahoes—were all on the warpath. It was before the refrigerator car was in use, and the contractors had no fresh meat to feed their employees. The men were grumbling considerably for fresh meat, for they could see fresh meat—that is, the buffalo, deer and antelope—in every direction, and they would growl because the contractors did not kill the buffaloes so that they could have fresh meat to eat. This was a little more difficult job than they thought, as the Indians were contesting every mile of railroad that was being built into their country. Besides having military escorts to guard the graders, every man from the boss down who went to work on the grading of the road carried a rifle with him as well as a pick and shovel, and when he was using his gun lay on the ground near him, as the Indians would daily attack them.

The construction of that road in 1867 was nearly a continuous fight, and it was dangerous for a man to venture any distance away from the troops and the graders to hunt the buffalo. They tried several hunters who claimed that they could kill buffalo and bring it into camp so that they could have fresh meat for their men. One or two of these men were killed by Indians while doing so, and the others gave up the job.

At that time I was guide and scout at Fort Hays, Kan., and had quite a reputation as a buffalo hunter. Some one told the main contractor that if he could get me I would be able to kill all the buffaloes he would require. He came to Fort Hays to see me. Of course I could not accept, although he made me a very tempting financial offer, without permission of the military department commander, General Sheridan.

The subject was even discussed at headquarters in Washington, and after considerable delay evidence was presented that it would solve one of the main labor problems in the great work of constructing the great transcontinental railroad and facilitate matters greatly. Leave of absence for the purpose was given me with the understanding that in case of an important outbreak I should resume the duties of my position. As roving Indians generally followed the herds of buffaloes, I was really in a certain sense performing scouting duty also.

I started in killing buffaloes for the Union Pacific railroad. I had a wagon with four mules, one driver and two butchers, all brave, well armed men, myself riding my horse Brigham. We would leave the end of the construction and get the herd to run in a circle. I have killed from twenty-five to thirty buffaloes while the herd was circling, and they would all be dropped very close together—that is to say, in a space covering about five acres.

When I had the number I wanted I would stop shooting and allow the balance of the herd to get away. The wagon would drive up, and my men would instantly begin to secure the hams, the tenderloins, the tongues and the choicest meat of each buffalo, including the heads, which were afterward mounted and used for an advertisement for the said road, loading the wagon until it was full. We would then drive back to our camp or to the end of the track where the men were at work, and when the men would see me coming with a load of fresh meat they would say, "Ah, here comes Bill with a lot of nice buffalo!" For awhile they were delighted with the fresh, tender meat, but after a time they tired of it, and seeing me come, would say, "Here comes this old Bill with more buffalo," and finally they connected the name buffalo and Bill together, and that is where the foundation was laid to the name of "Buffalo Bill," which afterward I defended as a title with Comstock before the officers at Fort Wallace with success.

I killed buffaloes for the railroad company for twelve months, and during that time the number I brought into camp was kept account of, and at the end of that period I had killed 4,280 buffaloes on old Brigham. This was all accomplished with one needle gun, or breechloader, which I named "Lucretia Borgia."

During those twelve months I had many fights with the Indians. On several occasions they jumped myself and little party while several miles from the end of the grade. We would always prefer to have them jump us after our wagon was loaded with buffalo hams, for we had rehearsed our little stockade so often that it did not take more than a few minutes from the time we saw them coming until the mules were unhitched from the wagon and tied to the wheels. We would make our breastworks around the wheels of the wagon by throwing out the meat and would protect ourselves by getting behind the buffalo hams. In this manner we held off from forty to sixty Indians on one or two occasions until we received assistance. I would make my smoke signals at once, which the soldiers would instantly see and rush to our rescue. I had five men killed during my connection with the Union Pacific railroad, three drivers and the others butchers.

Shortly after the adventures just recited I had my celebrated hunt with Billy Comstock, a noted scout guide and interpreter, who was then chief of scouts at Fort Wallace, Kansas. Comstock had had the reputation for a long time of being a most successful buffalo hunter, and the officers in particular, who had seen him kill buffaloes, were very desirous of backing him in a match against me. It was accordingly arranged that I should shoot him a buffalo killing match, and the preliminaries were easily and satisfactorily agreed upon. We were to hunt one day of eight hours, beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning and closing at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The wager was $500 a side, and the man who should kill the greater number of buffaloes from horseback was to be declared the winner.

The hunt took place about twenty miles east of Sheridan, and as it had been pretty well advertised and noised abroad a large crowd witnessed the interesting and exciting scene. An excursion party, mostly from St. Louis, consisting of about a hundred gentlemen and ladies, came out on a special train to view the sport, and among the number was my wife, with little Baby Artie, who had come to remain with me for awhile.

The buffaloes were quite plenty, and it was agreed that we should go into the same herd at the same time and "make a run," as we called it, each one killing as many as possible. A referee was to follow each of us on horseback when we entered the herd and count the buffaloes killed by each man. The St. Louis excursionists, as well as other spectators, rode out to the vicinity of the hunting grounds in wagons and on horseback, keeping well out of sight of the buffaloes, so as not to frighten them until the time came for us to dash into the herd, when they were to come up as near as they pleased to witness the chase.

We were fortunate in the first run in getting good ground. Comstock was mounted on one of his favorite horses, while I rode old Brigham. I felt confident that I had the advantage of Comstock in two things—first, I had the best buffalo horse that ever made a track; the second, I was using what was known at that time as the needle gun, a breechloading Springfield rifle, caliber 50—it was my favorite old "Lucretia," which has already been introduced to the notice of the reader—while Comstock was armed with a Henry rifle, and, although he could fire a few shots quicker than I could, yet I was pretty certain that it did not carry powder and lead enough to do execution equal to my caliber 50.

At last the time came to begin the match. Comstock and I dashed into a herd, followed by the referees. The buffaloes separated. Comstock took the left bunch and I the right. My great forte in killing buffaloes from horseback was to get them circling by riding my horse at the head of the herd, shooting the leaders, thus crowding their followers to the left till they would finally circle round and round.

On this morning the buffaloes were very accommodating, and I soon had them running in a beautiful circle, when I dropped them thick and fast until I had killed thirty-eight, which finished my run.

Comstock began shooting at the rear of the herd, which he was chasing, and they kept straight on. He succeeded, however, in killing twenty-three, but they were scattered over a distance of three miles, while mine lay close together. I had nursed my buffaloes as a billiard player does the balls when he makes a big run.

After the result of the first run had been duly announced our St. Louis excursion friends—who had approached to the place where we had stopped—set out a lot of champagne which they had brought with them and which proved a good drink on a Kansas prairie, and a buffalo hunter was a good man to get away with it.

While taking a short rest we suddenly spied another herd of buffaloes coming toward us. It was only a small drove, and we at once prepared to give the animals a lively reception. They proved to be a herd of cows and calves, which, by the way, are quicker in their movements than the bulls. We charged in among them, and I concluded my run with a score of eighteen, while Comstock killed fourteen. The score was now fifty-six to thirty-seven in my favor.

Again the excursion party approached, and once more the champagne was tapped. After we had eaten a lunch which was spread for us we resumed the hunt. Striking out for a distance of three miles, we came up close to another herd. As I was so far ahead of my competitor in the number killed, I thought I could afford to give an extra exhibition of my skill. I had told the ladies that I would on the next run ride my horse without any saddle or bridle. This had raised the excitement to fever heat among the excursionists, and I remember one fair lady who endeavored to prevail upon me not to do it.

"That's nothing at all," said I. "I have done it many a time, and old Brigham knows as well as I what I am doing and sometimes a great deal better."

So leaving my saddle and bridle with the wagons we rode to the windward of the buffaloes, as usual, and when within a few hundred yards of them we dashed into the herd. I soon had thirteen laid out on the ground, the last one of which I had driven down close to the wagons, where the ladies were. It frightened some of the tender creatures to see a buffalo coming at full speed directly toward them, but when he had got within fifty yards of one of the wagons I had shot him dead in his tracks. This made my sixty-ninth buffalo and finished my third and last run, Comstock having killed forty-six.

As it was now late in the afternoon, Comstock and his backers gave up the idea that he could beat me, and thereupon the referees declared me the winner of the match as well as the champion buffalo hunter of the plains.

The Seat on the Horse.

Why does a man seated near the neck of a horse travel faster than one seated near his tail? For it has been proved in very striking fashion that he does. But why? The reason is really very simple, and yet when little Tod Sloane, the jockey, came forward with practical proof nobody seemed to be able to explain it. A horse to move forward at all must thrust at the earth, and the chief force of this forward thrust comes from his hind legs. If the chief weight is just over or close to the thrusting power, naturally it diminishes its efficiency; instead of thrusting the horse forward a portion of it is wasted in lifting the weight of the jockey at every stride. — Strand Magazine.
